Individual EMDR Consultation

Through active involvement in EMDR consultation, practitioners can reflect on their own clinical work, explore various client challenges, and learn about additional protocols, all within the framework of EMDR theory. The cost is AUD 180 (+GST) for a 50-minute consultation.

EMDR Accreditation Group Consultation

For therapists who have completed Basic Training and are full members of EMDRAA, I offer advanced group consultations designed to help you work toward becoming an Accredited Practitioner.

Session Details: Tuesdays 6pm - 8pm,
2-4 participants, 30 min each participant,
Cost AUD 160 (+GST).

These sessions offer a collaborative, cost-effective space to refine EMDR skills, deepen understanding, and build confidence by learning from both individual consultation time and group discussions.

Advanced Group EMDR Consultation

For those seeking a collaborative experience, I readily respond to group consultation requests, fostering a shared space for professional growth and development, and accreditation at all levels.

EMDR Consultation with Dagmar

I'm expanding my consultation to include group consultation on regular basis. I am passionate about group work, believing that collective and collaborative efforts can significantly enhance professional development.

My practice is rooted in the EMDR framework, enriched by my family therapy background. I bring a unique blend of expertise informed by EMDR, family therapy/system theory, and the latest advancements in neuroscience.

My approach is characterised by a client centric focus, intricately tailored to individual experiences and needs. This extends beyond the individual, encompassing their entire system, including the family, environment, and community they live in.
